DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is responsive to the RCE and amendment dated 09/02/2003.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 8-11 and 15-20 are allowed.

The present invention is directed to a compound loudspeaker unit. The closest prior art, U.S. Pat. - 5,339,286 and 5,548,286 show a similar structured loudspeaker unit, comprising: a first diaphragm having an first coil thereon; a second diaphragm having a second coil thereon; a first seat member having a first magnet structure; and a second seat member having a second magnet structure as claimed. But U.S. Patent - 5,339,286 fails to teach that the second diaphragm is formed on a periphery of the first diaphragm, and the U.S. Patent - 5,548,286 fails to show that the first seat defines an annular gap to allow the first coil to be moveably suspended therein. These distinct features have been included in the sole independent claims and render the application allowable.

Conclusion
